

| Name of Proposal   | Lead Collaborator      | Proposal Cycle Date | Short Description   |
|--|------------------------|---------------------|---|
| Perspectives   | College of Law         | December 2016       | Short films produced by students in College of Law consisting of a range of viewpoints on selected subtopics followed by viewing and town hall events that actively engage students with the topic and foster discussion.   |
| Social Justice Week/ Unsung Heros                              | College of Social Work | December 2016       | The College of Social Work will celebrate our human diversity and the value it brings by recognizing Unsung Heroes with a week-long celebration – activities include a colloquium, Unsung Hero Award to recognize students, faculty and staff who make a difference in creating opportunities and ensuring fairness, and a UK Day of Service allowing students to participate in service. |
| Social Justice Series  | College of Education   | December 2016       | An initiative of the department of the College of Education, the semester-long series occurs monthly with seminars on racism and race and class.  |
| Inclusive Conversations  | Anthropology           | December 2016       | This proposal through the Anthropology Department will invite Professor Faye V. Harrison and Professor Kimberly Simons as speakers in the Anthropology Colloquium series to engage conversation toward decolonizing the academy.  |
| Transform Health   | LGBTQ* Resources       | December 2016       | A study to analyze the demographics of students utilizing the University Health Services Transform Health Clinic, to review types of care patients are seeking and perceived inclusivity of the patient's experience.   |
| Serving Those Who Served Us:Understanding Military Culture | Veteran's Center/IHDI  | December 2016       | The purpose of this program is to actively engage student veterans, faculty and staff by hosting a two hour educational symposium to increase awareness of culture.   |

|   |  |              |   |
|---|--|--------------|---|
| Global Kitchen Spring Season 2017       | International Student Council                              | January 2017 | The Global Kitchen Spring Season hosted by the International Student Council seeks to harness the unifying and storytelling capabilities of food to create connections among the diverse populations on UK's Campus. This initiative features a cook-out setting over the course of several days led by various international organizations and groups on campus. Each cook-out will feature 2 or more international organizations who present the flavors, aromas, and sights of their respective countries.                           |
| Cross-cultural Lunch and Learn          | College of Education;College of Business and Economics | January 2017 | A series of cross-cultural lunch and learn workshops will be hosted through the collaborative efforts of faculty and staff in the College of Education, College of Business and Economics, and International Student and Scholar Services, along with student organizations, Global Educator's Association and International Student Council. The workshops will be themed around cross-cultural communication and designed to foster intercultural dialogue and issues of diversity which promotes a sense of belonging and awareness. |
| Celebrate Diversity at UK Photo Contest | Center for Equality and Social Justice                     | January 2017 | A student photo competition hosted by the Center for Equality and Social Justice encourages students to submit an original photo that captures and celebrates diversity at the University of Kentucky. The contest aims to foster an environment that supports diversity and increases visibility of diverse students and groups on campus.   |

|  |  |              |   |
|--|--|--------------|---|
| The Human Library at UK                  | UK Libraries   | January 2017 | The Human Library™ is designed to build a positive framework for conversations to challenge stereotypes and prejudices through dialogue. In the Library, fifteen “Human Books” are available for checkout by a reader. Each “Human Book” will share with the reader their stories, experiences and life lessons related to oppression, isolation, stigma and discrimination.  |
| Taste of Africa 2017                     | Student Organization:African Student Association | January 2017 | The African Student Association will be hosting the 7th Annual Taste of Africa. This event celebrates the diverse cultures in Africa. This year’s theme is, “Kings and Queens: A Royal Heritage. The event will include various performances showcasing the beauty of Africa along with a reception where guests can sample the various cuisines of Africa.   |
| Diversity and the Educational Experience | College of Arts and Sciences                         | January 2017 | This project will create an engaging video exploring the rich diversity on UK’s campus through interviews of diversity leaders on campus. Interviewing primarily student organization leaders, the video will connect students to organizations where they can learn more and seek opportunities to engage with other students. At the film’s premier, students will be invited to engage with the collaborative partners and diverse organizations through panel discussion and Q&A. |

|  |   |              |   |
|--|---|--------------|---|
| Poetic Justice/The Accountability Cypher | Student Organization:Poetic Justice | January 2017 | Creation of the Accountability Cypher which brings together musical artists and poets whose works is known for its ability to provoke thought and discussion providing a platform that exemplifies the power behind diversity. The Accountability Cypher will use the work of local artists to delve into a conversation around issues and subjects that affect and effect marginalized identities in America and abroad.                                 |
| Conflict in Conversations                | College ofCommunication             | May 2017     | The Student Success Committee of the Department of Communication will host an event that identifies the importance of diverse conversions and provide conversation tools to cultivate positive dialogue beyond the classroom. An expert panel will include scholars and practitioners accomplished in conflict management, positive dialogue and media coverage and literacy. The event (TBA) will be open to all university faculty, staff and students. |
| Mr. and Ms. Black UK                     | Black Student Union                     | May 2017     | The Mr. and Mrs. Black UK pageant has been conducted on UK's campus for decades and brings together students of color for a homecoming event in a welcoming and fun environment. Attendance at the pageant is open to the public.   |
| Come Together Kentucky                   | LGBTQ* Resources                        | May 2017     | Come Together Kentucky is the Commonwealth's only annual LGBTQ* student-focused conference. The conference focuses on engaging college communities in LGBTQ* related academic and activist work and creating crucial university-focused conversations. Event scheduled for November 10-12, 2017.  |

|   |                                  |          |   |
|---|----------------------------------|----------|---|
| Breaking Down Barriers through Communal Dinners                         | The Campus Kitchen               | May 2017 | The Campus Kitchen, a student service organization that recovers food in order to make healthful meals for the underserved, will establish on-campus communal dinners. Weekly dinners will build on research and work in collaboration with UK's Universities Fighting World Hunger, and SSTOP Hunger. The dinners will challenge a way of thinking to foster an encouraging environment of diverse people, thoughts and ideas. |
| Cultivating Community solidarity and Social Justice Through World Music | College of Fine Arts/Music/Dance | May 2017 | An interactive series of events that are designed to stimulate intercultural reflection, practice and dialogue between students, staff and faculty - to include Balinese Gamelan workshop; a roundtable discussion entitled, "Sounding Protest and Reflecting on Social Justice in Music;" and a "sing-in" style workshop with Affrilachian folk musician and the UK World Music Concert in November.                           |
| Kentucky Gender and Women's Studies Conference                          | Gender and Women's Studies       | May 2017 | This first annual conference will bring together a diverse community of engaged students by providing the opportunity to present research projects related to the intersections of race, class, gender, sexual orientation, ability, nation/regional origin, and ethnicity. Event scheduled to occur September 16, 2017   |
| Queersland VI   | LGBTQ* Resources; WRFL           | May 2017 | Through music, art, and programming, Queerslang aims to celebrate and engage with the local LGBTQ* Community. The new, week-long format of the Queerslang festival, in collaboration with LGBTQ* Resources Office and WRFL, will add art exhibitions, Thursday-night educational workshops and align with the National Coming Out Day.  |

|   |                               |          |  |
|---|-------------------------------|----------|--|
| We Are UK   | multiple campus collaborators | May 2017 | We Are UK is an exciting event that celebrates the opening of the fall semester and the uniqueness of the UK community. A long-time staple of K Week, the festival includes a variety of food from Kentucky Proud vendors, live performances ranging from hip-hop, country, poetry, debate and other random talents acts from UK students, faculty and staff. Event scheduled August 2017  |
| Diversity Weekend/African Awareness Week          | International Student Council | May 2017 | The Diversity Weekend is designed to create a positive atmosphere where multicultural and international communities on campus can showcase their culture. Featured will be the Cultural Street Market with an opportunity for all to become familiar with the varied international cultures and communities on campus. African Awareness week hosted in connection with the Diversity Weekend, the week's activities include lectures, dance workshops, food tasting and cultural discussions designed to provide a unique perspective of the African culture. |
| The Convo   | Martin Luther King Center     | May 2017 | A program series called, The Convo, which involves bringing influential and diverse public figures to campus to engage in "fishbowl" conversations where student and audience members are able to spend a portion of the program asking questions and directly engaging with guests.   |
| Mass Incarceration: Righting the American Tragedy | College of Law                | May 2017 | The Black Law Students Association is organizing a one-day symposium to address the most pressing issues driving mass incarceration in American. Spring 2018   |

|  |  |              |   |
|--|--|--------------|---|
| Social Justice Book Club   | Center for Equality and Social Justice | October 2017 | Book Club aims to promote open dialogue with students around an important issue in society. A book will be provided to participants to read then gather and discuss.  |
| Lunch with Leaders   | Center for Equality and Social Justice | October 2017 | Lunch with Leaders creates an opportunity for selected students to have lunch and engage personally with faculty members who dedicate their scholarship to issues surrounding inclusive excellence and underrepresented people.   |
| Art as Means of Advocacy: Critical Conversations                     | Anthropology                           | October 2017 | Anthropology Graduate Student Association to bring noted anthropologist Agustin Fuentes for the 17th Annual Distinguished Lecture Series. Fuentes' research and writing centers on ways anthropological work can contribute to discussions on human nature.   |
| Reel to Real: Ajihn Series Exploring Disability, Sport and Inclusion | Kinesiology/Health Promotion           | October 2017 | Film discussion series devoted to disability, sport and inclusion. The film series seeks to facilitate discussion, inspire new insights and raise awareness on challenges faced by people with disabilities in sport and everyday life.   |
| Boxes and Walls  | Bias Incident Support Services         | October 2017 | Exhibits designed to personalize the struggle members of marginalized communities face and to educate attendees on impact of oppression and minoritization over time.   |
| Muslim Student Association Conference                                | Muslim Student Association             | October 2017 | A conference hosted to explore various identities within the Muslim-American community. The 3-day event will create an atmosphere where students from regional campuses feel comfortable to question and explore their many intersecting identities and their places within our national community. |

|                                      |   |              |   |
|--------------------------------------|---|--------------|---|
| Raising Awareness of Sexual Bullying | College of Social Work                            | October 2017 | Award-winning filmmaker and author Emily Lindin will be brought to campus to deliver an insightful message about the damaging practices of slut-shaming.  |
| Transformational Tuesdays            | College of Social Work                            | October 2017 | College of Social Work proposes a series of co-curricular events designed to engage, teach, listen and learn. The series will engage through a variety of opportunities, films, lectures, discussion groups, to confront injustice and oppression on campus and in our communities.                   |
| Underground Perspectives             | Student Organization:Underground Perspectives | October 2017 | Underground Perspective organization to plan a dinner event with different campus organizations convening to discuss their purpose to facilitate understanding of differences. Each organization showcases through a presentation describing their organization.                                      |
| Taste of Africa 2018                 | African Student Association                       | October 2017 | This event provides a unique perspective on the continent of Africa. The event held in Spring 2018 will promote cultural and socio-economic awareness through food, music, personal experiences, and performances.  |
| Facing Change Week                   | Bias Incident Support Services                    | October 2017 | Facing Change Week is a week-long collaborative program of events and opportunities for UK students, faculty and staff to connect, engage and be challenged around issues of diversity, belonging and social justice. Events include: workshops, intercultural conversations, and community projects. |
| Promoting UK's Unique Diversity      | College of Communication and Information          | March 2018   | CCI will create and produce five one-minute videos that illustrate the unique and vibrant aspects of diversity on campus. Videos to highlight resources available on campus which promote diversity, inclusion and safety.  |

|   |                             |              |  |
|---|-----------------------------|--------------|--|
| Lecture and Q&A Session/Workshop featuring Safiya Noble | Libraries                   | March 2018   | UK Libraries in collaboration with College of Communication and Information will host Dr. Safiya Noble to facilitate a dialouge to identify and disucss built-in systems of oppression and bias in technological media.  |
| Still We Rise   | Human Development Institute | March 2018   | Celebration of students on UK campus who have persevered through physical or metal obstracles  |
| Diversity and Inclusion Week                            | UK NAACP                    | March 2018   | Host NAACP Diversity and Inclusion Week. 5-day event offers students an opportunity to gain knowledge and participate in dialouge about diversity and inclusion issues on campus. Event will include keynote speaker, circle of love diversity celebration, and community service opportunity.   |
| Continuing the Conversations: Co-Curricular Engagement  | College of Social Work      | March 2018   | This event will include opportunities for students, faculty and staff to come together to learn more about immigration and racial violence through documentary films and disucssion.   |
| Trans* Week of Awareness and Remembrance                | LGBTQ* Office               | March 2018   | Transgender Week of Awareness is a week prior to the Transgender Day of Remembrance. Awareness week seeks to raise awareness of the disproportionate violence and systematic exclusions of transgender and gender non-conforming individuals, educate regarding transgender identities and experiences, and celebrate those individuals. |
| 7th Annual Boxes and Walls                              | Bias Incident Support Se    | October 2018 | Boxes and Walls walks students, faculty and staff through exhibits designed to personalize the struggle members of marginalized communities face and educate attendees on the impact of oppression and minoritization over time.   |

|  |  |              |  |
|--|--|--------------|--|
| Creating Change: Co-Curricular Engagement and Activism | College of Social Work   | October 2018 | Events to engage, teach, listen and learn. Facilitate opportunities that highlight the need for activism, voices, and needs of marginalized and oppressed populations. 2019 conversations include: Consent, Sexual Violence, and Marginalized Groups; LGBTQ* Civil Rights and Liberties - where are we after Obergefell v. Hodges? |
| Ancestry Event: Explore your Heritage                  | Martin Luther King Center and Center for Graduate/Prof Diversity Initiatives | October 2018 | A four-part workshop series that includes an introduction to genealogical methodology and resources and offers guidance on the use of online database searching on Ancestry Library, and well as other publicly available databases and local community resources.   |
| Social Justice Book Club                               | Center for Equality and S  | October 2018 | The Social Justice Book Club aims to promote an open dialogue with students around an important issue in our society - race - through the discussion of, "So You Want to Talk About Race." The author, Ijeoma Oluo, will lead the book club discussion and host a separate book talk.  |
| Underground Perspectives Week                          | Underground Perspectiv   | October 2018 | A week that focuses on collaboratio and inclusin. Events would consist of career-building, community service in an effort to connect students to different minority organizations on campus.   |
| Language, Religion and Sexuality: Let's Talk About It  | Linguistics Club and LGB   | October 2018 | One-Day colloquium to enhance and elevate campus discussion on the contemporary issues pertaining to religion and sexuality in this historical moment, focusing on language as a useful methodological approach to these topics.   |

|   |                                |              |  |
|---|--------------------------------|--------------|--|
| Muslim Student Association Mid West Conference          | Muslim Student Association     | October 2018 | Conference to explore the identities within the Muslim-American community. This 3-day event will create an atmosphere where students from all campuses feel comfortable to explore intersecting identities and their place within the national community.  |
| Exploring White Fragility at the University of Kentucky | College of Education           | October 2018 | Dr. Robin DiAngelo, leading researcher in Critical Whiteness Studies, invited to provide a keynote address to UK faculty and staff on White fragility. White fragility is a concept describing the psychological, emotional, and behavioral processes that prohibit many white persons from effectively engaging in critical conversations on race.  |
| 2nd Annual Facing Change Week                           | Bias Incident Support Services | October 2018 | A week-long collaborative program of events and opportunities for UK students, faculty and staff to connect, engage and be challenged around issues of diversity, belonging, and social justice. The overall theme of the 2nd Annual Facing Change Week is, Activism. The week will be comprised of events, activities and workshops .   |
| First Generation Student Conference: Power of One       | Student Support Services       | March 2019   | The First Generation Student Conference hosted by Student Support Services and First Generation Student Advising offers an informative program connecting a shared experience among students who are the first in their family to attend college. The conference is an opportunity for conversation and discussion for undergraduate and graduate students about the uniqueness of being first-generation. |

|   |                          |            |  |
|---|--------------------------|------------|--|
| College of Public Health International Potluck                      | College of Public Health | March 2019 | The College of Public Health will sponsor an "International Potluck" meal to celebrate diverse cultures. Students, Faculty and Staff will make a dish that reminds them of home, sharing the recipe for a cookbook. Event will increase awareness and appreciation for diverse communities within CHP and healthcare colleges.   |
| Lyle June Johnston Performance                                      | Lewis Honors College     | March 2019 | Navajo and Chyenne activist and performer Lyla June Johnston to give an evening talk and performance open to campus community. Visit will also include a lunch-and-learn workshop focused on the connecton between writing and activism in Lewis Honors College as part of celebration of National American Indian Heritage Month.   |
| Exploring Racial and Environmental Justice: Dialogues on Appalachia | Appalachian Center       | March 2019 | Colloquia, workshops, and trips in this multi-program initiative will bring together undergraduate and graduate students, faculty and community members to discuss and engage with racial and invironmental justice. Working with the Highlander Research and Education Center, the Appalachian Center and partners will provide platforms to explore complex relationships between race and Appalachian identity. |
| Wildcat Model United Nations Committee Debate                       | MLK Center; Students     | March 2019 | Wildcat Model United Nations is an organization created for members to develop speaking skills, research skills, collaboration skills for competitions, and learning about global politics through debate and current event discussion. 40 student delegates will be selected to participate in the debate topic of implementing measures to protect and maintain migrant children human rights.                   |

|  |  |              |   |
|--|--|--------------|---|
| Celebrating Diversity Month: Our Path to UK                | Graduate Student Congress  | March 2019   | A month-long series of events focused on building and enhancing a sense of UK community. Distinct activities: UK Community Pop Up Museum; Little Free Libraries; Community Discourse events   |
| Justice for the 'Whole' Self: Learning to be a Better Ally | Human Development Institute  | March 2019   | A panel of national and local disability justice experts who will discuss the intersection of disability with other forms of marginalization. The panel followed by a conversation hour with students will explore the nexus of ableism with other forms of oppression and discuss blindspots of students, professionals, researchers within the narratives of disability. The conversational hour will provide an opportunity to understand how all can be allies within their field of study. |
| Iota Week  | Zeta Psi Chapter of Iota Phi   | March 2019   | Events during Iota week of fall semester that bring about a sense of belonging and community. Primary event: Top Chef competition   |
| Women's Leadership Week                                    | multiple campus collaborators  | October 2019 | Women's Leadership Week celebrating Women's History Month bringing awareness to issues faced by women and women leaders in today's society - to include Women's Resource Fair, Women's History Month trivia, Women's Panel with keynote speaker.  |
| 859 Night Market   | Filipino American Student Org (FASO); Asians Changing Expectations (ACE) | October 2019 | Traditional street market with food stalls and vendors selling products to highlight pan Asian cultures. Also to include a showcase of performances of traditional song and dance of multicultural organizations on campus.   |
| NAACP Week   | UK NAACP Chapter   | October 2019 | The UK Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to host intentional programming for Spring, specifically NAACP Week.   |

|   |                                    |              |  |
|---|------------------------------------|--------------|--|
| Fastathon                                 | Muslim Student Association         | October 2019 | The Muslim Student Association to highlight the spirit of Ramadan will host Fastathon. Fastathon invites Muslims and non-Muslims to partake in a day of fasting and come together to share a meal when it is time to break the fast. The event will include dinner, a talk around community and overview of Ramadan.   |
| Universities Fighting World Hunger Summit | College of Agriculture             | October 2019 | The Universities Fighting World Hunger (UFWH) Summit 2020 is a two-day global conference that unites students, faculty, experts and food-security advocates in order to cultivate knowledge and inspirations for programming opportunities on campus, domestic, and global hunger solutions.   |
| Iota Week                                 | Zeta Psi Chapter of Iota Phi Theta | October 2019 | Zeta Psi Chapter of Iota Phi Theta plans to provide the campus community with intentional, effective programming catering to the social, cultural, and emotional needs of students. Programming to include: Civil-Rights awareness week; prevent sexual assault; and a headliner, "What It Means to be Black."   |
| Golden Week of Empowerment                | Black is Gold University           | October 2019 | Black is Gold University is a week long event entitled, Golden Week of Women Empowerment. Black is Gold University's mission is to highlight the importance of service, mentorship and sisterhood among African American women. Events for the week include: self-care workshop, movie night, sip and paint, making gift baskets for women's shelter, and a Golden Brunch awards ceremony. |

|   |                                      |              |   |
|---|--------------------------------------|--------------|---|
| Adult Student Learner Allies Week                                       | Graduate Student Congress and SGA    | October 2019 | A week-long event in March 2020 focusing on the needs of mature student learners (MSL) and student veterans (SV). The programming will consist of three distinct activities: Graduate-Professional Veterans Panel; Adult Student Learner Experience Forum and Family Day Resource Fair  |
| Indigenous Peoples of Kentucky: Redacted from History, Invisible to Law | College of Law                       | March 2021   | UK Rosenberg College of Law Symposium highlighting ways in which the law's structure developed inherent barriers to the creation of an inclusive society. This particular symposium would focus on Federal Indian Law and Policy and the erasure of Indigenous Peoples from Kentucky history, public consciousness and protection of the law.   |
| Film Screening of The 24th and conversaton with Kevin Willmott   | Arts and Sciences/English Department | March 2021   | Film screening and conversation with Academy-Award winning Black film director, Kevin Willmott. The 24th tells the story of an all-Black regiment of the US Army who were station near Houston during World War I, where they enourntered Jim Crow segregation laws and a hostile, all-white police force.   |
| Global Festival: Celebrating Our Culture                                | multiple campus collaborators        | March 2021   | Week long celebration of international and diverse cultures at UK. Series of events to create networks of diverse student groups for coalition building and collaboration. Events include: Global Movie Week; and Global Street-Fair. Student groups: African Students' Association, Indian Student Association, Latino Student Union, Korean Language and Culture Club; International Village. |

|  |  |            |   |
|--|--|------------|---|
| The Trouble with My Name: An Afternoon with Javier Avila | Hispanic Studies and collaborative campus partners | March 2021 | The Department of Hispanic Studies in cooperation with the Latino Student Union and Latin American, Caribbean and Latinx Studies, will bring Javier Avila's one-man show, "The Trouble with My Name," for a virtual performance. The show discusses Avila's experience moving from Puerto Rico. He uses comedy and poetry to increase awareness of privilege and the experience of being Latinx in the United States. |
|--|--|------------|---|